Bidding quiz

You have the following hand, neither side vulnerable:

♦ K9 ♥ AO73 ♦ J2 ♣ KOJ85

1. Partner bids One Club, you bid One Heart, and your partner rebids Two Notrump. What would you bid now?

2. Partner bids One Heart, you bid Three Clubs, partner rebids Three Diamonds, and, after you rebid Three Hearts, he bids Four Hearts. What would you bid now? 3. Partner bids One Notrump (15-

17 points), you bid Two Clubs

(Stayman), partner bids Two Diamonds, you bid Three Clubs, and partner bids Three Notrump. What would you bid now? 4. You deal and bid One Club, partner bids One Spade, you rebid

Two Hearts, and partner bids Three Spades. What would you bid now? 1. Six Clubs. Partner's jump to two notrump indicates 18 or 19 points, which, added to your 16 in high cards alone, gives you more than the 33 points needed for a small slam. Since your hand might provide one or more ruffing tricks, six clubs figures to be somewhat chances are that partner can make either contract. 2. Pass. You have already jump-safer than six notrump, though the shifted, indicating 17 or more points, and partner has shown no interest in slam. With nothing further to add to your story, you should therefore pass. Change the king of spades to the ace and you would owe partner one more bid, preferably four spades. Partner might have any one of the following hands:

♦ 74 ♥ J8652 ♦ AK983 ♣ A AQ ♥ KJ986 ♦ Q10854 ♣ 4

♠ Q3 ♥ KJ854 ♦ AQ97 ♣ 104 and you wouldn't want to be higher than four hearts with any of them. 3. Four notrump. With no suit having been agreed upon as trump, this is not Blackwood—it is merely an invitation to slam. If partner has a minimum for his previous bids, he will pass four notrump, but with values above a minimum, he should continue toward a slam. 4. Four spades. The K-9 are more than ample support for a suit that partner has bid twice. A slam is possible, and your hope is that after partner hears you support his suit, he will be able to make a move toward it. Partner is already aware that you have extra values since your first two bids constituted a "reverse," promising well above a minimum hand, so it is now up to him to make any move toward slam.

Tomorrow: More than just a guess. ©2025 King Features Syndicate Inc.
