United Way plans 2nd Skydiving Fundraiser

United Way of Central Kentucky (UWCK) is set to host its second annual Skydive for Change fundraiser at the Elizabethtown Regional Airport on Saturday, Aug. 23. Held in partnership with Skydive Kentucky, the event invites participants to leap from 12,000 feet, all in support of UWCK.

The event is set to take place from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Each jumper at the event is committed to raising $1,500 for UWCK's Operation Good Neighbor program, which helps keep at-risk neighbors in their homes. Through Operation Good Neighbor, UWCK facilitates collaborations between community volunteers and organizations, schools and churches throughout its five-county region, which includes Hardin, Meade, Breckinridge, LaRue and Grayson counties.

This year, local businesses can support employee participation by sponsoring their involvement in the event. If an employee doesn't reach the $1,500 fundraising goal, the corporate sponsor will cover the remaining amount.

while bringing the community together for an unforgettable, high-flying day of excitement and connection," said UWCK President Christa Shouse. "We are excited to reach even greater heights through this year's event."

UWCK is currently seeking participants willing to skydive at the event while raising funds. Participants can raise money on their own or jump on behalf of their business or organization. All participants are provided with a custom fundraising web-Change event was a huge site to share with friends, success, raising vital family and coworkers.

Good Neighbor program is Aug. 10 and prospective jumpers can sign up by visiting skydivekentucky. com/jump-form-page.

All participants will be provided with training from Skydive Kentucky ahead of the event date. Sponsorship opportunities are also available for the event. To learn more, visit skydivekentucky. com/sponsorship-page.
