management systems for the specific purpose of being able to track and immediately inspect email communications and internet usage of KY K-12 students and adults. While the district's email service continues to be one of the legally required communication tools detailed in this bill, districts must now also consider ALL forms and types of electronic communications used with students."

The Kentucky School Boards Association (KSBA), which provides services like training, legal counsel, and advocacy to its membership, has published a question-and-answer sheet. The organization also generates a standard board policy that districts adopt. As part of the 2025 board policy updates, KSBA has given districts sample guidelines and a sample procedural consent form they can use or build from that designed to capture what is required for consent.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Q: How will parents know what traceable platforms the district will use?

A: Within the first 10 days of the school year, districts must let parents know what traceable system the school is using and how to see communications between their child, teachers and volunteers.

Q: Does this mean faculty, staff, or volunteers can't operate a social media page for school activities?

A: School districts are responsible for setting a policy that conforms to the law. Some districts may allow faculty and staff to operate pages on social media for school clubs without allowing comments or responding to direct messages. Reach out to your school or district to understand their social media policy.

Q: As a parent, can I "follow" or "friend" my child's teacher on social media or text them directly? If I do, can they "like" pictures of my child that I have posted?

A: This law does not apply to electronic communications between teachers, staff, volunteers and parents. Since you are not a student, you can engage these individuals and they can "like" or comment on your posts.

NONPROFITS

Nonprofits are our neighbors, working alongside government and businesses to build healthy and safe communities, a strong workforce, and a vibrant economy. When they're underfunded and threatened, we all lose.

We're calling on legislators to recognize the nonprofit sector as the indispensable partner it is. Specifically, we're calling on Kentucky's Senators to work to remove harmful provisions from the federal tax bill and instead bolster support for nonprofits by expanding incentives for charitable giving and ensuring funding priorities that reflect the critical role of nonprofits in Kentucky communities.

Your voice matters. Lawmakers track constituent input and when enough people speak up, they listen. Your outreach helps shape priorities, elevate community impact, and hold leaders accountable.

We've made it easy for you to take action. Just visit <https://bit.ly/TakeActionforNonprofits> for a quick, simple way to contact your legislators.

Nonprofits show up for us every day — quietly, compassionately, and consistently. Now, they need us to show up for them. Stand with Kentucky's nonprofits, and help them keep building a stronger, safer Commonwealth for all of us.
