He did make a visit to Yew Dell botanical garden in Crestwood, a very nice place with lots of plants, historic home and castle , gift shop and cafe. He was there to check on some of the historic buildings. They were in Lex. Sat at the Rally and ate at Zims restaurant with friends. Dara, John, Tona and Hannah were at Liberty Hall Thursday For music by "Violets and The Newsroom". On Wed. evening Hannah took part in a mobile vacation Bible school by The Salvation Army church, going door to door in neighborhoods inviting children to join in with singing, crafts and teaching. Never heard of that but sounds like a good idea to take it to the kids. Tues. Hannah visited friends Karen and Jane in Lex. And enjoyed the Willow, a nice indoor/ outdoor nook to visit with friends. Sunday night she was going to West 6 th Lex. just to listen to storytelling and not telling. Ann did get out one day to get her hair cut at Gina's. She was happy with the new 360-degree faucet extension she installed on her sink but she got a surprise shower when it was turned toward her face when she turned it on, but she will get used to it She visited her mom on Sunday but Bee was in a sleep mode so there was not much conversation. Some days are like that. Fay said it looked like a coon had dug up some corn kernels in her corn patch. They usually don't bother it until it starts filling out ears of corn. She will have to get her live traps out I guess. She is like Patrick, can hardly keep up with the grass mowing and weed eating. She has a Lot of ground to cover But at least with so much rain she hasn't had to water all her big flower beds. We have gotten way behind on mowing at the lake too. The cicadas seem not to be quite as loud as they were. Ray used some to catch bluegill last week. Someone said their dogs eat a lot of them, supposed to be nutritious. I heard of a guy who baked some cicadas, but I think I will have to pass Not even chocolate covered for me Ray's aunt Georgia Walters passed away this week. She had been at Owenton Nursing home several months. Saturday the 21st is the annual Backyard Concert with Owen county's own Kentucky Dulcimer Gathering at the Historical society museum and tours of the museum will be welcome. I did not realize the base-ment of the historical society museum flooded with 4 feet of water during the rainy flood season resulting in needing to purchase a new furnace and they also have a leaking roof. Any donations would be much appreciated.

Every story has an ending. But in life every ending is just a new beginning. Every day is a fresh start. Make it a good one.
