

Transportation officials remind Kentucky vehicle owners about registration options given delayed March renewal notices

Herald Report

Registration renewals typically sent in March to applicable Kentucky vehicle owners have been delayed to mid-April due to a state system issue. Vehicle owners have options to pay registration fees and taxes before receiving the mailed notice, including online renewal or visiting their local county clerk's office. Kentuckians with vehicle registrations expiring in April 2024 can visit drive.ky.gov to renew online by entering the title number found on a previous year's registration document and their license plate number. Online renewals are not available if previous balances are owed or if insurance information is not on file.

Kentuckians always have the option to pay in person or check balances at their county clerk's office. Those visiting offices ahead of receiving the April notice are asked to bring their ID, proof of insurance and last year's registration document for the same vehicle. Administered by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC), the vehicle registration and titling portion of the Kentucky Automated Vehicle Information System (KAVIS) that launched in January is used primarily by county clerk staff to perform vehicle and vessel-related transactions and to generate user data used to mail notices. KAVIS generates the data used to prepare and send the renewal notification postcards.

"The new KAVIS system is getting stronger every day, and we're committed to working through the challenges that any modernization project presents," said KYTC Secretary Jim Gray. "We appreciate the public's patience and want folks to know they can take care of their vehicle registration needs without having to wait for the notice to arrive." State transportation officials have resolved the majority of issues identified after making the new system available statewide. Processing times at county clerk's offices have and will continue to improve throughout the year. The KAVIS team continues to improve KAVIS performance and provide technical assistance to clerk staff adjusting to a new payment system and process. "Despite the growing pains of replacing a 1970s outdated mainframe system, KAVIS was needed to introduce capabilities that are standard in most 21st century businesses, like improved reporting, intuitive interfaces and user guardrails," said Department of Vehicle Regulations Commissioner Matt Cole. "Because of the many combinations of unique transactions the system performs, we may continue to identify and resolve new issues throughout the first year as we cycle through new renewal transaction types, like boat renewals due in April."

Time-Saving Tips for Kentuckians When Renewing Vehicle Registrations:

- Renew your vehicle registration online at ky.gov.
- Bring your ID, proof of insurance and renewal postcard.
- Pay electric and hybrid vehicle ownership fees online at ky.gov. If paying in person at a county clerk's office, you must pay when renewing your car registration and will need to bring your fee notification postcard.

As a mainframe legacy system, AVIS was difficult to support and lacked needed functionalities. Kentuckians, under KAVIS, can now keep their license plate if they sell or trade a car, and have more special license plate options to support their favorite organizations.

Would you want coffee, hot chocolate, milk, or a soft drink with just 1% animal feces in it? Would you say, "Oh, well it is 99% clean. That is alright?"

Would you give your baby a bottle of milk or juice with just 5% of dog or cat manure in it? Would you say, "Oh, well it is 95% clean. That is alright?"

I think not!

If we knew our drink being handed to us was sprinkled with microscopic germs we would not drink it. We would count it polluted.

So, why do we look at ourselves, see at least a hundred strands of our character, knowing a few percent are not right (wrong, sin, perverted, twisted, almost right, etc.) and say it is alright? Do you at times look at someone you love, think about all their good qualities and then feel pain at something in them that is not right?

Most of us seek The Lord's touch on flaws within our character. We need His touch and power to eradicate them from our lives. Many of us have had His help in taming tempers, drowning wrongs to death, pulling sin's thorns, and filling all the empty places with Holy replacements.

Being a minister for over forty years I've seen a lot of people at the ending of their lives. I've heard many say all is right with them and The Lord; yet, there was named Biblical sin yet showing. Again, I've prayed with many who lived close to Jesus but wanted to be sure their very last flaw was under the Blood. I've heard people I couldn't begin to see a flaw in pray like me the day I asked my sin to be forgiven. They wanted that last tenth or hundredth of a percent clean and Holy.

Some don't find cause to be 100% right.

Some seek it their entire Christian lives and even more as they approach facing The Lord.

King Saul in the Bible had a flaw of wanting to please people. He would openly disobey The Lord or His prophets in order to please the people. He was a tall man, head and shoulders taller The Bible says. He was a man selected by The Lord to be King over all twelve tribes. He and David are the only two to ever rule all twelve. He was given what he needed to lead but he would choose people every time. Once The Lord repented for setting Saul as King. He was that disobedient. The prophet Samuel stayed awake all night praying for him. 1 Samuel 15:11 It repenteth me that I have set up Saul to be king: for he is turned back from following me, and hath not performed my commandments. And it grieved Samuel; and he cried unto the LORD all night. That same night he was doing exactly what The Lord told him not to do. God departed from him and became his enemy. The preacher Samuel finally walked away from him with Saul pulling on Samuel's clothes so much he tore them. He wanted approval but he didn't want to obey. 1 Samuel 15:26-28 And Samuel said unto Saul, I will not return with thee: for thou hast rejected the word of the LORD, and the LORD hath rejected thee from being king over Israel. And as Samuel turned about to go away, he laid hold upon the skirt of his mantle, and it rent. And Samuel said unto him, The LORD hath rent the kingdom of Israel from thee this day, and hath given it to a neighbour of thine, that is better than thou.

Thy young rich man loved riches more than Jesus. The love of money was a flaw. Jesus said he lacked one thing.

Blessings on presenting yourself 100% to The Lord for cleansing and rightness.

Works or Faith?

Are we saved by faith or are we saved by works? That issue has been debated for a long time, but anyone who reads the 14 books of the New Testament written by the apostle Paul need not be in doubt about it, for he answers the question clearly. In Galatians 2:16 he wrote, "Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified." Furthermore, in Titus 3:5 we read, "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost."

In other words, we are not saved either by keeping the law or by doing good works. We are saved by and through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

What place then do works have in the Christian life?

First, Jesus said, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 5:16)

In the same chapter that Paul said that we are not saved by works of righteousness he also declared, "This is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that they which have believed in God might be careful to maintain good works." (Titus 3:8) And in Ephesians 2:10, "For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them."

James declared that faith without works is dead. (James 2:26) And he challenged, "Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works." (James 2:18)

The truth is that genuine faith always produces good works. They are not the cause of salvation; they are the result of salvation.

James said that we are justified by works, and Paul says we are justified by faith. Do they contradict each other? Not if you get the context of their writings. In James we are justified by works in the eyes of man, for he cannot see our hearts. In Paul we are justified by faith, because He sees our hearts whereas man can only look on the outward appearance. However, let it be known assuredly that the faith that saves initiates good works by the children of God, for it is God that works in us both to will and to do of His good pleasure.

My godly grandmother, Bertha Prewitt, was taken home to glory when doing a good work. She had crossed the street to deliver a dinner she had prepared for an invalid neighbor. On the way back home when crossing the street, she was hit by a car and passed away four hours later. She was always exercising Christian kindness by faith.

So, please conclude the truth of God's Word that we are saved by faith not by works.
