CITY TAKES OUT LOAN FOR WATER WORKS' ELECTRIC BILL

City owes more than $150,000 to AEP; mayor claims past admin's bills, but all appear to have accumulated since he took office

SALYERSVILLE – The Salyersville City Council met in regular session on Monday, October 21, agreeing to obtain a loan for Salyersville Water Works' delinquent electric bills.

Salyersville Mayor Stanley Howard said Summit Engineering will be finishing up a Water Works project by this Friday, though he didn't specify which project.

He also noted ongoing sewer problems. "I know everybody's heard we got sewer problems," Howard said. "We've always had sewer problems. We're on the market to get that fixed. We've got almost $2.1 million – full amount – to start replacing all of our lift stations, all the house grinder pumps, so we'll be bidding on that shortly when we get the letter in that I'm pretty sure has been approved. All of the money. That's going to be a big thing. We're pumping these little grinder stations out in the yard, and we're out every week on these lift stations. We have to go out all the time and get these pumps started. We had to call in a specialty service on Sunday to come out and replace some electrical components. It's back up and running, coming out on Parkway Drive."

He assured the council after the project is completed the city's sewer will be in "good shape."

He said the main issue are the lift stations at Allen Drive, Dollar General on Parkway Drive and one at McDonald's, noting that they are getting all new pumps and electrical systems and it should take care of the problem, assumably meaning the strong sewer smell along that area.

Mayor Howard also updated the council on the $700,000 the city received last Friday to replace water meters, noting that 70% of the system's water meters do not work. He said that 54% of the water that leaves the plant is lost and they're only getting paid for 43% of the water, in part due to the meters, but also from leaks. He said that project will be bid out in the next two to three months and it should begin within five to eight months.

He said they have been working to replace old cast iron water lines, noting they have patched 10 leaks this month due to being cast iron, but the lines need changed.
