

Lung cancer is the #1 cause of cancer-related deaths.

Smoking is the #1 cause of lung cancer.

Ask your healthcare provider if a low-dose CT lung screening is right for you. Ephraim McDowell Health.

Screening exams may be scheduled with a physician's order by calling (859) 239-1282.

The Advocate-Messenger

$1.50

WEEKEND EDITION, APRIL 5-6, 2025

Danville, Kentucky Vol. 115, No. 27

Temporary signal change scheduled for Boyle County

STAFF REPORT

he Kentucky Transporta-

Street/KY 33 and Lexington Av- Tuesday, April 1 through Friday, tion Cabinet (KYTC) ad- enue/KY 2324. The conversion is June 22. vises motorists of a signal necessary for an evaluation to be Boyle County. An intersection The evaluation will be reviewed 33 (milepoint 0.22) and Lexing- all approaches. Stop signs will conversion will occur for Third following a 90-day period from ton Avenue/KY 2324 (milepoint be placed at all four directions 0.0). The intersection will be set for the intersection approaches. up to function as a 4-way stop Motorists should remain aware The conversion will be at the for a 90-day period. The current of the temporary change for the change scheduled for Danville, conducted for the intersection. intersection with Third Street/KY signal will change to flash red for area and utilize caution.

Local students meet with Comer

GOP changes to Medicaid in doubt

BY SARAH LADD

Kentucky Lantern

hanges the Kentucky General Assembly ordered in Medicaid face an uncertain future after Gov. Andy Beshear said lawmakers failed to fund the legislation.

For the second year in a row, Beshear last week sent the House and Senate a letter listing bills that they had passed without providing what Beshear said was the necessary funding.

Beshear sent the letter on the next to last day of the 2025 session, listing 11 bills and writing "there is still time in this legislative session to add appropriations."The Republican-controlled legislature took no action in response to the Democratic governor's letter, and Senate President Robert Stivers, R-Manchester, told reporters Beshear is obligated to carry out laws as enacted by the legislature.

"He wants to make some excuse about, 'oh, you didn't give me the money.' But it's basically: 'yes, you do have the money. Find it within your budgets," Stivers said.

Among the 11 bills that Beshear said lack "the appropriations necessary to implement" them is House Bill 695, which directs the Beshear administration to take steps to enact a Medicaid work requirement while prohibiting the administration from making any changes in the $15 billion program without first receiving the legislature's approval. The bill also creates a Medicaid Oversight and Advisory Board to look for cost savings in Medicaid.

In Washington D.C., Congressman James Comer (R-Ky.) met with the Boyle County High School AP Government class. The students were able to speak with Congressman Comer about his role as Chairman of the House Oversight Committee and then took a tour of the Capitol with members of the Congressman's staff. (Photo submitted)

Beshear vetoed the bill and the legislature easily overrode his veto.

The clash comes as Democrats in Washington are bracing to fight Republican efforts in Congress to cut Medicaid - a federal-state program that covers health care for low-income people - in order to pay for renewing federal tax cuts.

In the letter, Beshear said HB 695 would require rebidding Medicaid managed care contracts, which he said would cost the state $1.4 million, including hiring a contractor to help develop the request for proposal. The bill also is estimated to cost $500,000 in state funds to conduct a managed care long-term service study, Beshear wrote.

In his veto of HB 695, Beshear said the Medicaid community engagement requirement, commonly called a work requirement, would "undoubtedly" cost some adults their health coverage and also spark costly litigation challenging the requirement.

See CUTS, on 2

April at the Art Center is packed with great classes and programs

SPECIAL TO THE ADVOCATE-MESSENGER

Spring Break Camp is Monday, March 31 - Friday, April 4!

Spring Break Camps will be held daily from 9 am to 2 pm for kids in grades 1-5. Register for just one day or for the entire week. Campers will dive into a variety of exciting projects, exploring new techniques and experimenting with different mediums to unleash their inner artist. 9 am - 2 pm daily. Register at artcenterky.org/registration

Wednesdays in April

Join us for an inspiring journey through art history in our Homeschool Art Club! Each week, we'll dive into the life and work of a hands-on Chinese Sugar Paintrenowned artist, exploring their unique style and techniques a unique opportunity to learn the while creating our own masterpieces. 1-2:30 pm. Register at artcenterky.org/registration

Fridays in April

Mini Makers Club is every Friday from 10:30 am to 4:30 pm and the first Saturday of the month in our Art Lab Classroom, and the first Saturday of the month. We have weekly craft stations geared for kids ages 0-5, with a caretaker. It's a great time to engage in creative play and make new friends! Mini Makers is FREE, with donations greatly appreciated. Please check social media for cancellations.

Thursday, April 3

Join the Chinese Culture Club from Centre College for a ing class. This free program offers traditional art of sugar painting, where melted sugar is skillfully crafted into beautiful, edible designs.

The event will be led by a skilled instructor from the Asia Institute - Crane House, beginning with a cultural presentation by the Chinese Culture Club, followed by a live demonstration and guided hands-on practice. Participants will have the opportunity to create their own sugar paintings, take part in a showand-tell session, and engage in a Q&A session.

This is a free event but registration is required. 6-7:30 pm. Register at artcenterky.org/registration

Chinese Sugar Painting will be one of the center's many offerings during the month of April. (Photo submitted)