

Character and Leadership

By DANNY WYATT
 Jobe Publishing Contributor

I believe that real leadership of the right kind demands high moral, ethical, and just character.

Whether it be the nation, the home, the church, or the family, no group can long survive as it should if the leadership is lacking in high character.

Weaknesses in character on the inside will cause a great loss of respect from the outside.

Respect is essential for good leadership. However, respect must be earned, it cannot be demanded. When a leader is rude, immoral, vain, arrogant, cruel, thoughtless, and shows a refusal to admit his/her own mistakes, then they will not and should not be followed lest the entire group come down with the same deadly disease.

The fabric of family in our country is quickly being torn away from the safety of biblical standards, and our society as a result, is slouching ever more closely towards Sodom of old. We must turn this thing around.

We must demand character in our nation's leaders before selling out to the god of economic prosperity. We must restore the family as God designed it in the beginning.

Failure to do these things will result in a slow and painful death.

THE OLD TREE FARMER'S ALMANAC of TREES, WISDOM AND WIT by Charles D. Williams

February 20, 2025 to February 26, 2025

TREES

Black Cherry is one of many trees associated with the One-Eyed Sphinx Moth, which itself is from a larger family of moths. They do have two eyes, but on the lower portion of their wings is a bright blue circle enclosed by a black border which resembles an eye. So, they have two of those eyes as well, making their name an anomaly. The green segmented caterpillars of some Sphinx Moths are known in Kentucky as "tobacco worms" which eat tobacco leaves, but do not bite you as I was told by older workers when a child learning to "prime" Burley tobacco.

WISDOM

February 24, 1786 – Wilhelm Carl Grimm was born in Hanau, Germany. With his brother Jacob, he wrote Grimms Fairy Tales, including Hansel and Gretel, Snow White, Cinderella, and many others.

February 26, 2019 – In their original packages, a line of toothbrushes 3.57 miles long was completed in Loveland, Colorado. (See video at <https://www.coloradoan.com/videos/news/2019/02/27/loveland-group-breaks-guinness-world-record-toothbrushes/3008221002/>)

WIT

"They were indeed great rascals, and belonged to that class of people who find things before they are lost."

The Brothers Grimm

Charles D. Williams is a nationally-recognized Tree Farmer and conservationist. He is a lawyer in Hart County and a devoted reader of almanacs.
