George Nichols III and Connie Moreland Smith will be honored during WKU’s 2025 Homecoming Celebration.

The 34th class of noted alumni will be inducted into the Hall of Distinguished Alumni during the Hilltopper Excellence Awards on Thursday, Oct. 30 at WKU’s Knically Conference Center. George Nichols III (’83)

George Nichols III is the 10th President and CEO of The American College of Financial Services, an accredited, nonprofit institution located in King of Prussia, Pa., with more than 18,000 students serving the financial services industry.

He joined the College after a 17-year stint at New York Life, where he held principal roles in sales, strategic initiatives and public policy. Prior to joining New York Life, George was Kentucky’s first Black insurance commissioner, leading regulation of the state’s $10 billion insurance industry through his expertise in health insurance reform and financial services integration.

In 2021, he was named to Forbes’ inaugural edition of “The Culture 50 Champions,” which identified models of business excellence who uplift Black and Brown communities through their craft and philanthropic efforts. From Business Insurance Magazine, George was the inaugural recipient of the Alonzo Herndon Award, named in honor of the founder of Atlanta Life Insurance Company, the largest Black-owned insurance company in the U.S.

Longtime donors and supporters of many areas at WKU, George and his wife, Cynthia Jean “CJ” (’82), were named the University’s Philanthropists of the Year in 2018. In recognition of a gift to support student services, the Cynthia and George Nichols III Intercultural Student Engagement Center was named in their honor in 2017.

With an extensive history of public service, George currently serves as Chair of the National Board of Trustees for City Year, a nonprofit that provides high-impact student, classroom and school-wide support in urban areas. He is also a former member of the WKU Board of Regents, the WKU Board of Advisors and the WKU Foundation Board of Trustees.

In addition to earning a degree in Sociology from WKU, Nichols received an associate degree from Alice Lloyd College in 1980 and a master’s degree from the University of Louisville in 1985. He earned the Chartered Advisor in Philanthropy® designation from The American College of Financial Services in 2023.

He continues to lean on the love of CJ and their three adult children, Courtney Nichols, Jessie Nichols (’13) and George Nichols IV, and his unyielding faith.
