

Summer camps are starting up

BY STAFF REPORT

Bardstown girls' soccer coach Martin Bodkin, a national youth and 'C' license holder, will be conducting summer soccer clinics during the month of June at Dean Watts Park.

The camps are open to players aged 7 to 14. Training will focus on improving both the fundamental and higher level skills, as well as increasing the technical ability and speed of play through playing in small-sided games.

Clinic dates are from 8:30-11:30 a.m. June 2-6, 8:30-11:30 a.m. June 9-13, 8:30-11:30 a.m. June 16-20 and 8:30-11:30 a.m. June 23-27.

Space will be limited, so early sign up is encouraged.

For information, call Bodkin at 502-460-3573.

U of L renewing old hoops rivalries with Cincinnati, Memphis

BY RUSS BROWN
KENTUCKY TODAY

LOUISVILLE — Heading into Pat Kelsey's second season as Louisville's basketball coach, the school continues to build one of the most attractive nonconference schedules in program history.

In addition to previously announced games in November and December against Indiana, Tennessee and Kentucky, U of L is resuscitating series against two of its longest and most intense enemies — Memphis and Cincinnati.

A six-year series against the Tigers was announced last week, and U of L planned to announce a two-year neutral-site series with the Bearcats, according to Jon Rothstein of CBS Sports.

The Cardinals will host Memphis on Dec. 13 in the KFC Yum Center, then will travel to the FedEx Forum, the Tigers' homecourt, for a rematch in 2026-27.

Tipoff time and TV designation for the first contest have yet to be determined, and specific dates and venues are still being finalized for the remaining four games.

Louisville coach Pat Kelsey directs the Cardinals during a win over Pittsburgh in a game this past season.

The Cards and Tigers have faced off 90 times over four conferences — Missouri Valley, Metro, Conference USA and American. But they haven't met since the 2017-18 season, when U of L prevailed 81-72 in the Gotham Classic in Madison Square Garden.

BOC approves competition rules amendment for state golf

BY KHSAA

The KHSAA Board of Control conducted its final regularly scheduled meeting of the 2024-25 academic year last week in Lexington, selecting its upcoming president-elect, approving a rules competition amendment at the golf state championships and continuing its work on development of membership proposals to amend KHSAA Bylaw 6 (transfer rule) and Bylaw 7 (foreign students).

Damon Kelley of Paul Laurence Dunbar was chosen as the 2025-26 Board of Control president-elect by a unanimous vote. Kelley will follow in the footsteps of Greg Howard of Warren County Public Schools, who is set to succeed outgoing two-time Board of Control President Matt Wilhoite of Kenton County Schools next school year.

The board approved the usage of golf carts by the head coach of each qualifying full team at the golf state championships starting in 2025-26. One cart will be permitted for each qualifying full team at both the state first-round sites and the final-round site at Bowling Green Country Club.

Following two years of review, the board authorized KHSAA staff to prepare a final proposal regarding potential Bylaw 6 and Bylaw 7 amendments that will be presented at the first regularly scheduled Board of Control meeting of the 2025-26 academic year in July. If approved, any potential proposal would then go before the delegate assembly at the fall 2025 annual meeting in September.

"The board has spent the bulk of the last two years reviewing the changing landscape of both school enrollment patterns and transfer restrictions throughout the country and now clearly has its sights set on finalizing a proposal for membership consideration," said KHSAA Commissioner Julian Tackett.

"The board will finalize that proposal development at its July meeting so a vote can be taken by the membership in September. Clearly, our members and constituencies do not want any form of a one-time, no-criteria, free transfer for every student athlete currently subject to Bylaw 6, so this research has been invaluable in identifying issues to help alleviate concerns about the rule without sacrificing key values around interscholastic athletics.

"Our golf coaches association has spent more than a year working with our staff to help fine-tune a proposal to deal with a long-standing concern about cart usage, especially when coaching a four or five-person team."

The board also discussed facility issues and bracket construction regarding the tennis state championships, as well as bracket construction and championship site considerations for the soccer state tournaments.
