KENTUCKY STATE COST SHARE PROGRAM

The Kentucky Soil Erosion and Water Quality Cost Share Program was created to assist agricultural producers in protecting soil and water resources. The program helps to address existing soil erosion, water quality, and other environmental problems associated with farming or woodland operations. Applications are taken year-round, but periodic cut-offs are necessary so that applications received can be submitted for review. Approvals are based on statewide ranking criteria and the availability of funds. Conservation practices eligible for cost share funding include, but are not limited to, animal mortality and composting facilities, critical area plantings, diversions, filter strips, grade stabilization structures, grassed waterways, livestock heavy use area, livestock watering facilities, riparian buffers, stream crossings, roof runoff and water storage structures, waste storage facilities, water and sediment control basins, pasture and hay planting, spring development and cover crops. Cost share rates are a maximum of 75% of the actual installation cost of the practice, not to exceed $20,000.00 per year. Deadline to apply for the 2026 funding cycle is Friday, October 3rd, 2025. Please contact the LaRue County Conservation District at 270-358-3132 or visit the office at 306 West Main Street, Hodgenville KY.

DID YOU KNOW?

Fans of grilled food may insist grilling is an art form, and there are tricks of the trade that suggest producing delicious foods cooked over an open flame is more complicated than novices may think. Seasoning a grill is one such endeavor. Novices may not know what goes into seasoning a grill, but doing so can make it easier to remove cooked foods from grates that can become sticky as grills are used with greater frequency. Seasoning a grill involves oiling its cooking surfaces and warming it. Some grill manufacturers even recommend seasoning brand new grills prior to using them. Various cooking oils can suffice when seasoning a grill, but the grilling experts at ThermoPro advise using an oil with a high smoking point. When applying oil to the grates, users can utilize a basting brush, rag or even
