MCC announces late registration and extended hours for the fall 2025 semester

MADISONVILLE — Madisonville Community College (MCC) has announced dates for late registration for the fall 2025 semester.

New and returning students will be able to register for courses until Saturday, August 16. Regular registration hours are 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Students can begin the process at the college's Enrollment Center on the North Campus in Madisonville or the Muhlenberg Campus in Central City.

To help students who may be working during the week, the college will offer extended hours on Saturday, August 16, from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon on the North Campus in Madisonville.

This is a special weekend registration date for all interested students who are working or who may have obligations during the week.

The Enrollment Center, Financial Aid, Student Records, and the college's bookstore will all be open and ready to assist students. Applicants can be admitted to the college on the spot and meet with an academic advisor to schedule classes. No appointment is necessary.

Aimee Wilkerson, dean of enrollment management, commented, "There's still time to get a great class schedule this fall. We have plenty of online and in-person course options available, and advisors are ready to help any interested student get started."

To learn more, please visit or contact the MCC Enrollment Center at (270) 824-8657 or visit the college's website at www.madisonville.kctcs.
