

Kinniconick Homemakers

By Donna Carver

The Kinniconick Homemakers met on Tuesday, April 15, at Noon, at the home of Ruby Rayburn. Our hostess, Donna Carver, blessed the meal of hot dogs with homemade sauce, chips, salads, and dessert.

After the meal, our president, Leoma Rigdon, called the meeting to order with the pledge to the flag.

Our devotional leader, Ruby Hord, read our inspirational, "Today." Sometimes, we get overwrought with all the things there are to do in a day's time. Stop! Thank God for what you have accomplished. Tomorrow is another day! Thank the Master for sharing His time and His wonders with us.

After the devotional, Donna Carver read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved. Members responded to roll call by answering this question, "If you were given a bunny rabbit for Easter, what would you name it?" We had some cute answers from Bugs, Sweetie Pie, Hoppy to Fluffy. The treasury report was given, and club dues and "Coins for Change" were collected.

The meeting was turned over to our president, who discussed the following new business:

- Scholarships – Guidelines were discussed. Members were given application forms. Ballots were given to each member, expressing their wish for a deserving student exclusively to be a Lewis County High School senior or to include a senior from another county. Results will be made available at a later date.

After discussion of scholarships, Leoma Rigdon taught the lesson: Estate

Planning. Estate Planning is arranging for the use and disposal of your resources and property after your death. The steps involved are:

- Know what you have and where it is.
- Know how you want your estate to be handled.
- Know how to provide for distribution of your property before and after your death.
- Put your plans on paper.

Information was given about Trusts; federal and state estate taxes; digital estates; and financial planners.

After the lesson, a container of candy for us to estimate how much was in the jar was passed around. Brenda Clark was the winner.

In lieu of a meeting next month, we will be dining at Cattleman's in Morehead, around Noon, on May 13.

There will be no more meetings until fall.

Coleman fights for Kentucky cars

Herald Report

Attorney General Russell Coleman called on the U.S. Senate to block California's attempt to push its unreasonable green agenda on the nation's automotive industry. In a letter signed by 26 attorneys general to U.S. Senate Majority Leader John Thune, General Coleman encouraged Senators to use the Congressional Review Act to roll back an EPA rule that would increase the costs of Kentuckians' cars and trucks.

In the final hours of President Biden's term, the EPA issued a rule approving California's attempt to ban gasoline-only cars by 2035. The Biden Administration's EPA had previously approved California's rules to require that half of all heavy-duty trucks be electric by 2035. The letter raises additional concerns now that California is trying to increase that mandate to include all trucks.

"One state cannot dictate how the other 49 live. It's bad policy and it's simply unfair," said Attorney General Coleman. "Along with AG colleagues from more than half the states, we encourage the U.S. Senate to reverse the radical legacy of the Biden Administration."

Attorney General Coleman joined attorneys general from Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia, Wyoming, as well as Arizona's Senate President and Speaker of the House of Representatives.

In addition to signing this letter, General Coleman fought to protect Kentuckians' ability to drive the car of their choice throughout the Biden Administration. He challenged several EV mandates, including by leading a 21-state coalition to defeat a Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) rule in federal court in the Western District of Kentucky.

Art at LCCE

By Dr. Laura Stone

Students at Central Elementary have been working on an Honoring Our Educators Artwork for exhibition at the school. The project has been funded in part by Gaydos Funeral Home, the City of Vanceburg Electric Plant Board, Lewis County Primary Care, and Arts For All Kentucky, an organization that provides opportunities and experiences in the arts for children with and without disabilities. Dr. Stone has enjoyed working with the young artists to enhance their skills and content knowledge. The faculty and staff are so excited to showcase the creativity and talent at LCCE!

Tollesboro Lions Club Egg Hunt Success

By Craig Stanfield

The 2025 Tollesboro Lions Club Easter Egg Hunt was a great success! Although it was necessary to reschedule from the original April 5th date to April 19th (due to heavy downpour of rain), and while a windy day, more than 100 persons participated and the event was heavily sponsored by a number of local individuals and businesses, resulting in 4,000 eggs and a table full of gifts (all children who participated received a gift!). The Sensory Class began at 11 a.m., with the open event beginning at noon. Age groups were 0-3, 4-6, 7-10, and 11-13 (no age limits or classes for the Sensory Hour).

Sponsors included The Tollesboro Lions Club, Rip's Farm Center, Jim and Jennifer Meadows, Primetime Fun Inflatables, the Peoples Bank of Ohio, the Peoples Bank of Kentucky, Anthony and Diana Prater, Peggy's Party Balloons and More, Walker Auctions, Howington Dixie Cafe, T-City Pizza, R & S Pallet Shop, Steven Truesdell, Take It Personal Gifts (Tyler & Tabby Lyles), 3 Girls Grace, Buttons & Bows, Tara Ginn, Angie McCann, Craig A. Stanfield Real Estate & Auction Services, and Rhonda Trumbo Mack.
