Bicentennial Days

Owen county's second annual Bicentennial celebration will be off and running as hosts of people in the county, in neighboring communities, and even out of state will gather at Courthouse square for three days of festivities.

Opening the celebration will be Congressman John Breckinridge at Owen Public library, and flag presentation by him to Owen County Woman's club. The silk flag will then be given to the Owen library for display. A reception for the Congressman, his wife, and Margy Johns, representing the state Bicentennial office, will follow in Library hall.

Unusual Accidents

Howard Tackett, Long Ridge, was hospitalized at OCMS with back and knee injuries when he jumped from a tractor. The vehicle was getting away from him and turned over in a lake.

W.A. Grisham Jr., of Bromley, suffered a broken nose when struck by a piece of irrigation equipment. The impact knocked him down a hill, the metal just missing an eye.

Dub Juett, Long Ridge, received a cut on his head and was knocked down while using the same equipment.

Tim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Shelton, Owenton, suffered a broken arm in a pony league ball game.

Blanton Gibson, Owenton, broke a bone and damaged the ligaments in his right foot when a tractor tire fell on it while he was working at McDanell's garage.

Ezra Curtsinger, Mackville, was operating a gravel truck when the brakes apparently failed on a hill and around a curve. Curtsinger jumped from the vehicle before it left the road and over an embankment. He is suffering from a fractured right hip and deep lacerations on both arms.
