

POETRY

concluded our interview at Analog Coffee. I walked right next door to the window of Madison Main Street and read the most evocative short poem by local poet Natalie Cox. What a treat! And to think there are so many more gems to discover in windows all up and down Main Street in Madison.

HOT TIP OF THE WEEK

This Friday you can enjoy the most delightful little live music pub crawl if you are so inclined, all within about a two block walk and all with no cover charge. There's music at Off Broadway Taproom, one of my favorite cozy venues, jazz at Vintage Lanes, awesome classic rock at Rivertown Grill, and karaoke at two locations, Mad Paddle and Tiki LIVE (plus karaoke on the hilltop at Tailgators if you are up that way). Saturday you can do it all again, with live bands at three spots and karaoke at two. You'd think with the colder weather and getting so close to the holidays that the music scene might quiet down a bit, but that really never happens in Indiana's Music City. When we say "Live Music Every Weekend" we mean just that, 52 weeks a year!

Charlie Rohlfling is a retired advertising man and partner in The Red Bicycle Hall music venue. Look for his distinctive fedora bobbing above the crowd anywhere local live music is happening.

ARE DATA CENTERS IN LINE WITH THE LAW'S INTENT?

The opinion again points to state law: "the industrial bond incentive was created '[in] order to promote the economic development of the Commonwealth, to relieve conditions of unemployment, [and] to encourage the increase of industry in this state ...'" The opinion further references a separate incentive for data center projects where the General Assembly states: "the inducement of the location of data center projects [in Kentucky] is of paramount importance to the economic wellbeing of the [state]."

"Given that the General Assembly has emphasized the importance of data centers ... it seems incentivizing data center projects through [industrial revenue bonds] aligns with the purpose of [state] statutes."
