

Not your normal Days of Our Lives recap

Xander is in full pout-rage mode after finding out everybody but him knew that the letter giving his brother Phillip half of his fortune from their father, the late Victor Kiriakis, was forged. He is mad and bitter that they didn't tell him because they feared he'd beat Phillip to a pulp. And what did he do when he found out? He beat Phillip to a pulp. And now Phillip is in a coma at the raggedy Salem hospital, which is only staying afloat because of a festival with face painting and a dunking booth. Bo Brady remains hospitalized at some location where he has been in a coma for like two years after his son Shawn shot him to protect his mom Hope. During his coma time, someone had the compassion to slightly color his gray hair so that it still has a hint of brown. John Black and Steve one-eyed "Patch" Johnson were in a lab where John saved a drug that can heal thousands around the world. However, there was an explosion, and John is bandaged up and hospitalized. Maggie tells Xander to get out of Kiriakis Mansion now that it's common knowledge around Salem that Xander was most likely the one who beat up Phillip who remains unconscious. He has a tantrum and later snatches the portrait of his father, the late Victor Kiriakis, from over the mantle and takes it away and stabs it with a knife. That's what happens when you don't discipline your kids when they're little and have tantrums. They grow up to be Xander and stab oil paintings and roar, tossing them over in the garbage, not even caring that they've left a blank spot over the fireplace at Kiriakis mansion that is now decoratively challenged. Maggie just stares at the blank spot blinking, kind of like people do when they take down their Christmas tree and it looks bare but they're not sure what to put there. *Dramatic music plays.
