PET OF THE WEEK

May the force be with Maul

Danville-Boyle County Humane Society

Star Wars fans know that Darth Maul had a rather unfortunate history with his legs. Fortunately, his feline namesake has a much brighter outlook!

Meet the Pet of the Week, Maul, a little cat who has already been through quite an ordeal. She arrived at the shelter with a badly broken leg that required surgery. Thanks to veterinary care and modern medicine, Maul gets to keep all four of her legs, though one now has some extra hardware.

Her surgery was successful, and she has a pin in her injured leg to help it heal. Now comes the hard part: rest, rest, and more rest. Maul is in a period of strict confinement while her leg heals, which probably isn't how she'd choose to spend her days. Unfortunately, even the Force can't speed up the healing process.

While Maul focuses on getting better, the Danville-Boyle County Humane Society is taking care of the bills – almost $2,000!

Unexpected medical expenses are part of animal sheltering, but that doesn't make them any easier to absorb. Maul's surgery and recovery weren't in our budget, and DBCHS is covering the cost of her care. We're hoping our community will help us offset that expense so we can continue providing medical treatment to all the animals who need it.

Every donation, regardless of size, helps cover Maul's veterinary expenses. It's an opportunity to make a real difference for a little cat who arrived at the shelter needing more than the usual food, shelter, and affection.

Maul isn't quite ready for adoption yet. She has some healing to do before she can begin searching for a home of her own. But once her veterinarian gives her the all-clear, she'll be ready to leave this chapter behind and start a new adventure.

Until then, we're rooting for a smooth recovery and looking forward to seeing her back on all four paws.

May the Force be with Maul — and may our community be, too.

DBCHS is open 1–5 pm Monday, 1–7 pm Tuesday & Wednesday, 1–5 pm Thursday, noon–4 pm Friday, and 10–3 pm Saturday. We hope to see you soon!

Gen Z cuts wedding costs as inflation, debt reshape spending priorities

Metro

Generation Z, which includes people born between 1997 and 2012, is entering into young adulthood, and this demographic continues to blaze trails when it comes to their unique financial priorities.

How Gen Z prioritizes spending is evident in the way they place value on weddings. With inflation, high housing costs and debt shaping Gen Z's views on money, it stands to reason that cuts may be occurring when this demographic decides to walk down the aisle. According to data from the premiere wedding planning platform The Knot, weddings in the United States cost an average of $34,200 in recent years.

However, Gen Z couples spent an average of $27,000 to $30,000 on their weddings, whereas millennials are significantly higher at between $38,000 to $39,600. Further research from Zola, a wedding planning resource, found 43 percent of Gen Z couples set their overall budget under $20,000.
