approach to disaster recovery.”

According to KLC Insurance data, the need for disaster response assistance continues to grow. Between 2021 and early 2026, storms, tornadoes, hail and flooding caused tens of millions of dollars in damage to cities across the state. In 2025 alone, damages exceeded $22 million.

The Cities Helping Cities Fund

is designed to help cities address urgent needs following disasters, including stabilizing city operations, supporting first responders and beginning recovery efforts quickly.

The Kentucky League of Cities is a nonprofit organization that provides advocacy, legal services, training, financing and consulting to cities across the state. KLC Insurance is the largest municipal insurance agency in Kentucky.
