Open the eyes of my heart

“But even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing, whose minds the god of this age has blinded, who do not believe, lest the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine on them.”

The illustration most often used to depict a good idea is a light bulb above a head. Here, Paul uses the phrase “the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ”.

The Bible says, “Then I saw that wisdom excels folly as light excels darkness.”

Light is greater than darkness. Light is a revealer whereas darkness is a concealer.

The God of this world has blinded the mind of the lost.

The gospel reveals the need of a personal Savior.

That gospel is being hindered by blinders applied by the lies of the devil.

Jesus declared, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me.”

If there are two ways to Heaven, then Jesus would be a liar. He declared that he is the only door to the Father and salvation.

What is needed is a lucid moment to see clearly the need of salvation and the Savior who can save.

You can hear without hearing and see without seeing. The result of not seeing is to perish.

Jesus said, “And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.”

Truth to bring freedom could be available but if it’s unknown, it will not

Meteorites and Microbes

According to scientists, planet Earth is estimated to be 4.566 +/- 0.0002 billion years old, and the oldest evidence of life dates back to ~3.8 billion years, indicating that life was established 700 million years after Earth formed. Before we proceed, however, I must say to those among us who enjoy such debates as young-Earth/old-Earth that is not my intent here. Instead, over the following two articles, my interest is in analyzing a particular theory of the origin of life that evolutionists have put forward in recent years.

Evidence of Earth’s early history was found in lunar rock samples collected during the Apollo missions and later through observations, revealing a picture of the early Earth and its violent conditions. Scientists identify this 700-million-year violent period as the Late Heavy Bombardment (LHB), characterized by a massive number of asteroids colliding with the early solar planets, including Earth and its moon. The primary evidence of lunar impact and the ensuing destruction comes from observing moon cratering and analyzing collected rocks. These rocks revealed the destructive force of the impacts as rock-melting events that formed during collision with asteroids or comets some tens of kilometers across. Moon rocks support the theoretical dating of the LHB between about 3.8 and 4.1 billion years ago. Researchers have assumed that the impacts observed on the moon during the LHB also occurred on the early Earth, though erosive forces have erased most impact evidence. Through the LHB period, scientists calculate that some 17,000+ meteorites impacted Earth in what are considered to have been
