A transportation planning study underway in Louisville is evaluating potential improvements to KY 1065 (Outer Loop) between Interstate 65 and KY 2052 (Shepherdsville Road). The study, dubbed the Outer Loop Transportation Study, has identified potential highway safety and mobility enhancements for the roughly three-mile corridor.

The Outer Loop Transportation Study includes a full analysis of existing conditions along the corridor that have been used to develop practical solutions and improvement concepts to boost roadway safety, address congestion issues and improve traffic flow. The study area spans three miles across KY 1065 (Outer Loop) from Minor Lane, over I-65 and through the KY 61 (Preston Highway) intersection to KY 2052 (Shepherdsville Road).

As the study transitions into the final phase, citizens are invited to attend a public meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 4, to provide feedback on proposed improvement concepts. The public meeting will be an open-house event
