soul soothing about walking the same path with someone who knows how you feel.

It's as King Solomon wrote: "By yourself you're unprotected. With a friend you can face the worst. Can you round up a third? A three-stranded rope isn't easily snapped" (Ecclesiastes 4:12, The Message).

Sometimes as a mom you flat out don't know the right thing to do. Other times, you know the right thing but it's something you'd give anything not to do.

Sometimes you're just tired and want to lock your kids in a cage for a day or year or two and drink Yoo-Hoos and eat Ho Hos until you're numb.

It's a wonder any of us can function in society.

Earlier today, I sent the woman from my church an email telling her that I have absolutely no wisdom to pass on to her.

I've made a lot of mistakes. I wish I could press a rewind button and do better.

I can't be a shining example, except as someone God showed grace and mercy to.

"But I can be there for you," I wrote. "I'm great at getting coffee. I'm a good listener. And I know how you feel.

"What are you doing tomorrow? Want to get a latte?"
