Hickman Police issue election-related reminder

With election season underway, the Hickman Police Department is reminding residents to respect the law and the property of others as candidates and supporters campaign throughout the community.

The department is specifically warning residents not to vandalize, damage, remove or destroy campaign signs. Police officials noted that campaign signs are considered private property and that damaging or removing them could result in criminal or civil consequences.

The department is also reminding residents that federal law restricts the placement of items in another person's mailbox.

Election materials, flyers, advertisements and other items should not be placed inside a mailbox unless they are properly handled through the U.S. Postal Service.

The Hickman Police Department encouraged residents, candidates and campaign supporters to remain respectful of one another and allow everyone to participate in the election process without interference or property damage.

Anyone who witnesses suspected vandalism or other unlawful activity is encouraged to contact law enforcement and provide as much information as possible.

The department thanked residents for helping keep the community respectful and safe throughout the election season.

Fulton Police issue safety alert following vehicle break-ins

The Fulton Police Department is urging residents to take precautions following reports of vehicle break-ins in the area.

Police are encouraging residents to lock their vehicles at all times, including when parked at home, and to avoid leaving valuables or personal belongings in plain sight.

Residents are also reminded never to leave keys or firearms inside an unattended vehicle and to report any suspicious activity to authorities.

Anyone with information regarding the reported vehicle break-ins is asked to contact the Fulton Police Department or Fulton County Dispatch at (270) 236-2545.

The department is reminding residents that preventing vehicle break-ins can often begin with simple precautions.

"If You See Something, Say Something," police advised, while thanking the community for helping keep Fulton safe.

Mail-in absentee voting now open in Fulton County

Mail-in absentee voting is now open for eligible voters in Fulton County, according to information from the Fulton County Clerk's Office.

Voters seeking to cast a ballot by mail must use the online portal at GoVoteKY.gov to request an absentee ballot.

To submit a request, voters should select "Absentee Ballot Request" and follow the instructions provided through the portal.

The clerk's office noted that voters requesting a mail-in absentee ballot must provide a reason they are unable to vote during the dates and times available for no-excuse in-person absentee voting or on Election Day.

Voters who experience difficulty using the online portal may contact the Fulton County Clerk's Office at 270-236-2727, option 1, or email fultoncountyclerk@ky.gov for assistance.
