The cattle tank was used to baptize six people from the Culung church.

It was unbelievable. They were so happy to see us. And I was surprised that at each church, at least one person came forward to be baptized; one church had six. It was five women and a man."

In December, local residents Jeremy Glass and Charles Costello embarked on a faith mission to the Philippines, representing the North Main Church of Christ.

The pair were scheduled to embark on a tour of several churches and travel to many villages, but first, they made an important stop at the Manila American Cemetery.

"We went into Manila, and we had to spend the night, then we had to fly 300 miles farther on into the country to
