

COMMENTARY

McCutchen deserved better treatment from the Pirates

BY PAUL ZEISE,
PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE
The Tribune Content Agency

PITTSBURGH

There is no easy way for a franchise to move on from a legendary player, especially when that player isn't ready to retire. It is a difficult and delicate process and one that usually is met with an awkward time when the player is resistant to move on.

Players often don't want to retire because they think they still have something to give. They don't want to move on with their life or they want to hang on to their place in the spotlight.

It is a tale as old as sports, and it is one that can be awkward in its execution because no front office wants to appear to mistreat a fan favorite and someone who has meant a great deal to the franchise.

And that is where the Pirates are with Andrew McCutchen. And of course, true to the Pirates, they managed to make a public relations disaster out of the situation.

Let me be clear. I agree that the Pirates have every right to build their roster as they see fit. They are looking to upgrade their designated hitter position - as they should. And at 39, McCutchen is probably at the point where he should begin to think about getting on with his life's work.

The Pirates have also attempted to upgrade their offense, and with some of the additions they have made they are squeezing McCutchen out of the lineup. Simply put, they haven't negotiated with him about this season because they are likely ready to move on.

JESS RAPFOGEL TNS

Andrew McCutchen of the Pittsburgh Pirates celebrates after hitting a double against the Washington Nationals at Nationals Park on April 1, 2024, in Washington, D.C.

And, again, that is perfectly fine. I have no issues with teams determining it is time to move on from a legend. But there is a way to do it with class and dignity.

This past weekend was PiratesFest, a chance for fans to reach out and touch players, coaches and even Cherington. It is a meet-and-greet kind of event with autographs and photos and some Q&A sessions and whatnot.

McCutchen wasn't invited because he isn't currently under contract, but that is about as shortsighted as it comes. He is still probably the most popular player on the team, he has been a great ambassador for the Pirates and he is one of the most important players in franchise history.

Why not just bring him to PiratesFest? Let him minge with the fans, sign autographs, create goodwill and be that ambassador that generates some much needed positive publicity for the team. It would be an easy thing to do, and that's especially true if last season was his last in a Pirates uniform before he retires.

And then when the question of whether McCutchen will be back is broached, a simple "That is something we will continue to discuss with Andrew" would suffice as an answer. That would end any need to go into a long-winded explanation about why you as a franchise want to move on from him.

It would also at least allow people to entertain the idea that, if McCutchen is indeed squeezed out, it was on his own terms.

The Steelers did that with Ben Roethlisberger even as they pushed him out the door. Everyone knew that Roethlisberger wanted to play another year - and his comments since have confirmed this. But the Steelers made it clear they were moving on and he subsequently "retired" and received a hero's sendoff.

Clearly, Roethlisberger wasn't happy with the decision, as he openly talked on his podcast about how the general manager didn't want him back. But the Steelers handled it the right way. As a result, Roethlisberger is still close with the organization, is welcomed back and comes to all the reunions and tributes and still attends games with his family.

That is how you want it to end for players who have meant so much to the organization, but it appears the Pirates and McCutchen are headed for a messy divorce and it didn't need to be that way.

As I just wrote, McCutchen should have been invited to PiratesFest but I understand why he wasn't.

Cherington, though, could have handled the question about him a lot better than he did. All he needed to say was "Andrew is an all-time Pirate, he has done incredible things for this organization and we are keeping an open dialogue with him about 2026," and then moved on.

He did this at the start of his comments, saying the Pirates would love to maintain a great relationship with McCutchen into the future. But instead of ending it there, he went into some long-winded diatribe about the 40-man roster and fielding the best team and all kinds of other stuff that made it clear the team doesn't want McCutchen back.

"Our approach this offseason has been laser-focused on what gives us the best chance to win more baseball games in Pittsburgh than we have in the past seasons," Cherington said Saturday. "That's going to continue to guide our decisions."

Why go there? It was unnecessary and merely stoked the flames of an already tense relationship with McCutchen, who predictably took to Twitter to object to the way he has been treated. He asked rhetorically if other teams have treated their all-timers like this and ended with "Rip the jersey off of me. You don't get to write my future, God does."

The Pirates have every right to build their roster as they see fit, and so this isn't about awarding a spot to McCutchen just because he has meant so much to them. The Pirates aren't a charity. This isn't the little leagues, where everyone gets to play three innings and there are orange slices after the games.

McCutchen is old and it is probably time for the Pirates to move on. I don't dispute any of that at all.

But there is the right way and the wrong way to handle it, and the Pirates handled this the wrong way.

I hope McCutchen and the Pirates can patch things up, as he is one of the most important and popular players in team history. He deserves to have tribute nights, be celebrated on team reunions and be welcomed warmly whenever he wants to go to PNC Park to watch his former team.

Brady on Belichick's HOF snub: 'Completely ridiculous'

Field Level Media

Tom Brady labeled Bill Belichick's snub from the Pro Football Hall of Fame as "completely ridiculous" on Wednesday.

Brady obviously knows a thing or two about his long-time former head coach with the New England Patriots. The three-time NFL MVP shared his thoughts on the voting committee's decision against embracing Belichick on his first year on the ballot.

"I don't understand it," Brady said Wednesday during an interview with Seattle Sports 710 AM. "I mean, I was with him everyday. If he's not a first-ballot Hall of Famer, there's really no coach that should ever be a first-ballot Hall of Famer, which is completely ridiculous because people deserve it.

"He's incredible. There's no coach I'd rather play for. If I'm picking one coach to go out there to win a Super Bowl -- give me one season -- I'm taking Bill Belichick. So that's enough said."

The proof is in the pudding for Belichick, whose six Super Bowl victories as a head coach are the most in NFL history. He went 266-121 (.687) in his 24 seasons leading the Patriots, with an undefeated regular season in 2007. He also won two Super Bowls as defensive coordinator of the New York Giants.

Per ESPN, Belichick was informed Friday that he did not reach the threshold of 40 out of 50 votes from the Hall of Fame's selection committee.

"When it comes down to votes and popularity and all that, then welcome to the world of voting," said Brady, who will become eligible for Hall of Fame induction in 2028. "You might as well try out for the Oscars and get a big panel to tell you if you're good or not. It's the way that it works unfortunately. He's gonna get into the Hall of Fame. In the end, I'm not worried about that."

Belichick was a three-time NFL Coach of the Year and named to the NFL 100th Anniversary All-Time Team in 2019. With 302 regular-season wins as head coach of the Cleveland Browns (1991-95) and Patriots, he ranks third in league history behind Don Shula and George Halas.

The Patriots went 29-38 in Belichick's last four years in New England once Brady left for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, where he won one Super Bowl without Belichick. More recently, Belichick became a college coach for the first time at North Carolina, but his first season was a disastrous 4-8 affair.

"A lot of times in life for all of us, things don't happen exactly how you want them or on your timeline," Brady said of Belichick's eventual induction into the Hall of Fame. "But we'll all be there to celebrate him when it does happen, and he's gonna have a huge turnout from so many players, coaches that appreciated everything he did, the commitment he made to winning and the impact that he had on all our lives."

Classified

classifieds.kentucky.com

FIND.
BUY.
SELL.

SELL
YOUR STUFF FAST!

859.231.3100

Legals

Misc. Legals

FY27 Coordination Meeting- Middle Kentucky Transportation

FY27 Coordination Meeting- Middle Kentucky Transportation

To: Transportation Providers, Transportation Interests
From: Beth A. Spencer, Executive Director
Subject: Coordination Meeting FY 2027
Date: January 20, 2026

You are invited to attend the coordination meeting of Middle Kentucky Community Action Partnership, Inc. (Middle Kentucky) at 10:00 a.m. EST on Monday March 3rd, 2026. The meeting will be held in-person at 171 Howell Heights Jackson, KY 41339 and electronically via Zoom. Information for attending electronically will be provided on the next page. Middle Kentucky is applying for FY2025 Section 5339, 5310, 5311, Intercity, Appalachian Development Public Transportation Assistance and Rural Transit Assistance Program (RTAP) funds. This is funded through the Federal Transit Administration, administered by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet to provide operating and capital assistance during the period of July 1, 2026 through June 30, 2027, for the counties of Breathitt, Lee, Owsley, and Wolfe Counties.

Middle Kentucky is the lead agency, we will discuss collaborative agency and organization plans, concerns, Veteran/Military transportation needs and suggestions for Federal Transportation Grants administered by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet, Office of Transportation Delivery. This includes 5310 (Elderly Individuals and Disabled Individuals) 5311, Intercity, Appalachian Development Public Transportation Assistance, and 5339 (Bus and Bus Facilities Program) and the training funds through Rural Transit Assistance Program.

Coordinating public transportation services with other service providers, transportation interests and the private sector is a vital part of the Section 5339, 5310, 5311, Intercity and RTAP projects and the services of Middle Kentucky Community Action Partnership, Inc. The four main points of the Coordinated Plan will be addressed.

The meeting is open to the public. Everyone is encouraged to attend via Zoom or in-person at 171 Howell Heights Jackson, KY 41339. If you require Limited English Proficient accommodations, or have any other questions, please contact Cecily Spicer at (606) 666-2452 ext. 239.

Instructions on Entering the Zoom Meeting

The Coordination Meeting will be held via Zoom and in-person at 171 Howell Heights Jackson, KY 41339. Please find below the information and instructions on joining the Transportation Coordination Meeting via Zoom.

Middle Kentucky is inviting you to a scheduled Zoom meeting.

Topic: Middle Kentucky Transportation Coordination Meeting
Time: Mar 3, 2026 10:00 AM Eastern Time (US and Canada)
Join Zoom Meeting
<https://us06web.zoom.us/j/88123038454>

Meeting ID: 881 2303 8454

To Join the Meeting by:

Computer:
Go to Zoom.com, select 'Join a Meeting' at the top of the page. You will be prompted to enter a Meeting ID. Enter the Meeting ID from above to join.

Smart phone or tablet:
Download the Zoom app to your device. Open the app and select 'Join' on the home page. You will be prompted to enter a Meeting ID. Enter the Meeting ID from above to join.

Landline or Cell Phone:
Using a cellphone or landline, choose one of the phone numbers listed below to call in. There will be an automated message asking for a Meeting ID. Enter the Meeting ID from above followed by the pound (#) sign. Next, you will be asked for a Participant ID followed by pound (#). The Participant ID is used if you do not have a microphone on your computer and would like to connect a phone to be able to talk in the meeting. Your Participant ID will be unique to you and given by Zoom. If you do not have a Participant ID, press pound (#) and you will be entered into the Meeting.

One tap mobile
+13092053325,,86069589682#,,, *552203# US
+13126266799,,86069589682#,,, *552203# US (Chicago)

Meeting ID: 881 2303 8454

IPL0309732
Jan 30 2026

PUBLIC SALE

Available 2/12/26 9AM. Units available for public bidding will be announced on the block. Public bidders must arrive between 8 & 8:40am, show photo ID, & pay a $50 non-refundable registration fee & a separate, refundable $1000 deposit per car. Certified Checks only - NO CASH.
Chase Finance:
3VWC57BU0KM049123 - 19 VW Jetta
IPL0308651
Jan 30 2026

Legals & Public Notices

NOTICE TO INFORM:

At the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Council meeting on January 22,2026 Ordinances 001-011 were enacted related to: (1) changing the zone from an Agricultural-Rural (A-R) zone to a Medium Density Residential (R-4) zone and a Light Industrial (I-1) zone, for 65.69 net (73.72 gross) acres for properties located at 200, 201, 250, 251 and 301 Canebrake Dr.; (2) amending certain of the Budgets of the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government to reflect current requirements for municipal expenditures, and appropriating and re-appropriating funds, FY 2026 Schedule No. 21; (3) Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government authorizing the issuance of its Various Purpose General Obligation Bonds, Series 2026A, in one or more subseries, in an aggregate principal amount of $18,040,000 (which amount may be increased by an amount of up to ten percent (10%) or decreased by an unlimited amount); approving a form of Series 2026A Bonds; authorizing designated officers to execute and deliver the Series 2026A bonds; authorizing and directing the filing of notice with the State Local Debt Officer; providing for the payment and security of the Series 2026A Bonds; maintaining a sinking fund; creating a bond payment fund for the Series 2026A Bonds; authorizing acceptance of the bid(s) of the bond purchaser of the Series 2026A Bonds; and repealing inconsistent ordinances; (4) amending the authorized strength by abolishing six (6) classified positions and creating six (6) classified positions, all in the Div. of Waste Management; (5) amending the authorized strength by abolishing one (1) unclassified position and creating one (1) classified position, all in the Div. of Parks and Recreation; (6) amending the authorized strength by abolishing one (1) unclassified position in the Div. of Accounting; (7) amending the authorized strength by abolishing one (1) unclassified position in the Div. of Emergency Management; (8) amending the authorized strength by abolishing one (1) unclassified position and creating one (1) classified position, all in the Div. of Grants and Special Program; (9) amending the authorized strength by abolishing one (1) classified position and creating one (1) classified position, all in the Div. of Code Enforcement; (10) amending the authorized strength by abolishing one (1) classified position and creating one (1) classified position, all in the Div. of Enterprise Solutions; (11) amending the authorized strength by creating one (1) classified position in the Div. of Police. These documents may be viewed in their entirety at <https://bit.ly/ords01-11> or in the Council Clerk's Office at 200 E. Main St. Lexington, KY 40507, 859-258-3240. View all LFUCG legal notices at <https://www.lexingtonky.gov/public-notices>
IPL0309754
Jan 30 2026

Legals & Public Notices

Legal Advertisement

The Urban County Board of Adjustment will hold a public hearing on Monday, February 9, 2026 at 1:30 pm, Council Chambers 2nd floor Government Center Building, 200 E. Main St., to consider Variance Appeals, Conditional Use Appeals, Administrative Appeals and other items. To view the list of applications or for further information please see <https://www.lexingtonky.gov/government/boards-commissions/board-adjustment> or call the Division of Planning at (859) 258-3160.
IPL0306121
Jan 30 2026

Beverage Notice

Beverage Notice
Lexington Legends Concessions, LLC, with a mailing address of 130 West Avenue, Kannapolis, North Carolina, 28081, hereby declares its intention to apply for an NQ1 Retail Drink License, a Caterer's License, a Limited Non-Quota Package License, a Special Sunday License, a Sampling License, a Transitional Malt Beverage License, and a Transitional Wine & Spirits License. The business to be licensed will be located at 207 Legends Lane, Lexington, Kentucky 40505. Lexington Legends Concessions, LLC is a Kentucky limited liability company, the primary owners and officers of which are Temerity Baseball Team, LLC, 130 West Avenue, Kannapolis, North Carolina, 28081, Temerity Baseball III, LLC, 130 West Avenue, Kannapolis, North Carolina, 28081, Andrew L. Sandler, 130 West Avenue, Kannapolis, North Carolina, 28081, and Scott Brown, 130 West Avenue, Kannapolis, North Carolina, 28081, Managers. Any person, association, corporation, or body politic may protest the approval of the license by writing the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, 500 Mero Street 2NE33, Frankfort, Kentucky, 40601, within (30) days of the date of legal publication.
IPL0309750
Jan 30 2026

SO MANY THINGS
AND TOO LITTLE TIME?

Let Classifieds Help

HERALD-LEADER
KENTUCKY.COM

Real Estate

Commercial

FOR SALE: 151 Hanger Circle
Richmond, KY
23,812 SF Industrial Building on 6.5 Acres.
B. Rubin
270.315.0548 $3.5MM

354 East Main St. Lexington
3300 ft. on Main Street
There are 3300 ft. on Main Street with two bathrooms and two separate entrances.
772-532-8061 $15 per square foot

Service Directory

Cleaning & Janitorial

CLEANING HOME OR OFFICE
859-200-3214
REFERENCES AND EXPERIENCED
859-200-3214

Home & Business Improvement

Remodeling crew available, Roofing windows siding gutter crew available
859.699.9949

All Carpet Repairs/Stretch/Water & Pet Damage/Rotten/ Squeaky Floors. 35+ yrs exp. crosscarpetrepair.com 859-225-3863

NEED TO FIND
THE BEST
EMPLOYEE IN A HURRY?

Let Classifieds Help

HERALD-LEADER
KENTUCKY.COM