surface and not waiting to sub out, Kentucky seemed dead in the water.

Already playing without Quaintance, the Cats found themselves down double digits less than five minutes into the game.

Then, seemingly without reason, the Cats flipped a switch, powering back to take the lead with just under eight minutes remaining in the half. Kentucky would pass the advantage back and forth before taking it into the break 44-39.

Coming out from halftime, Kentucky started the second half riding heavily on its — modified — starting lineup. That group included Oweh, Moreno, Mouhamed Dioubate, Aberdeen and Williams.

The Cats and Bulldogs would trade blows back and forth until UK found its advantage and surged to lead by 20 points as early as four minutes remaining. From there, it was smooth sailing.

“Coach Pope allows us to play through mistakes... there's really no right or wrong in basketball,” Moreno said. “It's just how you fight that adversity and it's how you come together as a group. I think even though they (Mississippi State) were able to cut the lead down a bit, as a team, we still came ready to play.”

The contest also saw the returns of Andrija Jelavic and Trent Noah, both of whom logged DNPs in recent contests. Jelavic finished with 16 minutes played for three points and five rebounds. Noah briefly subbed on under two minutes before immediately leaving the floor. Walkons Walker Horn and Zach Tow checked in with 47 seconds remaining.
