EVENT

French Henry, and her husband, former Lieutenant Governor Dr. Stephen Henry, orthopedic surgeon, researcher and author.

Since her reign as Miss America in 2000, French has workd tirelessly on behalf of the nation's veterans. Her inspiration drawn from her father, a disabled Vietnam veteran. She has served as Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner of the Kentucky Department Veterans Affairs and continues her mission with the Heather French Foundation for Veterans and the Kentucky Commission on Military Affairs. She was recently honored with the American Legion National James V. Day "Good Guy" Award.

French shared some of her father's experiences as a Vietnam veteran. She said since the war was not a popular war at the U.S., soldiers being discharged were told to look as civilian as possible. Her dad was commanded to change to civilian clothes and his wages were garnished for the cost of those clothes.

French said she is often questioned "why should we listen to you about veterans' issues?" She comes from a small county where you do not talk about military service, "because they all know it anyway!"

She has a strong connection to the Purple Star Program, a state-sponsored recognition initiative designed to support military-connected children from active-duty, Nation Guard, Reserve, and veteran families who face frequent school relocations and deployments. As a result, she makes veterans' issues her mission.

A special attraction at the event, was the presence of seven vintage military vehicles, including a World War II, 1944 Stuart M5 light tank.

According to John Detherage, president of KILROY Inc. (an acronym that stands for Kentucky Indiana Liberated Relics Of Yesteryear, the group was organized in 2003 and chartered into the Military Vehicle Preservation Association in 2004. They regularly participate in festivals, parades, and other fan events providing a chance for the public to see rolling military history up close.

Musical entertainment for the evening was provided by AsOne, (Dan and Kim Colon of Louisville). Nine members of Trimble County High School's Jobs for America's Graduates (JAG) program served the guests and were presented "challenge coins" from Commissioner Allen for their service.

Special thanks was given to Cristal Lucas, owner of The Rafters; Belita Dean, event organizer; Donna Jo Horine, dinner specialist; Peter Mekara and Reggi Williams Kistner, grill masters; and Ray Clem, Master of Ceremonies.

The event was also made possible by John Ogburn Trimble County Judge Executive, the America 250 KY Trimble County Committee, and the many group and individual sponsors who participated.

CHRONIC WASTING DISEASE (CWD)

Special restrictions apply to deer harvested in the CWD Surveillance Zone. Ballard, Breckinridge, Calloway, Carlisle, Casey, Fulton, Graves, Hardin, Henderson, Hickman, Laurel, Lincoln, Marshall, McCracken, McCreary, Meade, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Russell, Union, Wayne, Webster and Whitley counties are under carcass transportation and baiting restrictions in an effort to monitor and contain CWD. Hunters in Henderson, McCreary, Pulaski and Wayne counties also must take their harvested deer to a staffed check station or use a CWD Sample Drop-Off Site the first three days of modern gun season, Nov. 14-16.

Deer hunters outside the CWD Surveillance Zone can aid Kentucky Fish and Wildlife's monitoring efforts by donating the heads of legally harvested and telechecked deer for free testing and aging through the voluntary CWD Sample Drop-Off Sites or CWD Sample Mail-In Kits.

HUNTER EDUCATION

Valid proof of hunter education certification is required for hunters born in 1975 or later. For new hunters without hunter education certification, a free one-year exemption permit is available. This permit allows a person to hunt as long as they are accompanied in the field by an adult who is hunter education-certified or born before 1975. Learn more on the department's Hunter Education webpage.

KENTUCKY DEER & ELK APP

Introduced to Kentucky's deer and elk hunters last year, the Kentucky Deer & Elk App allows users to see public land property boundaries, locate local processors and taxidermists, keep a digital copy of their license and get more information about the county they are hunting. This app is available for free download from the Apple App and Google Play stores.

SHOOT FOR SAMPLES

Until Jan. 18, 2027, every hunter who submits samples for CWD testing through a CWD Sample Drop-off Site or through a CWD Sample Mail-in Kit will be entered into the Shoot for Samples Giveaway. Hunters can enter the giveaway as many times as the bag limits allow. Prizes range from gift cards to gear thanks to the following sponsors – Copperhead Guns and Range, FirstChoice Firearms, and the Kentucky Chapter of Backcountry Hunters & Anglers.

VENISON DONATION SERVICES

Kentucky Hunters for the Hungry and Boone Brothers are excellent options for hunters who want to contribute to conservation and harvest additional does, but don't need the meat themselves. Both organizations process and distribute venison to people in need in the communities where the deer were harvested.

FIGHT POACHING

Suspected illegal activity may be anonymously reported to Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Law Enforcement by using the "KFWLaw" smartphone app available for free download from the Apple App and Google Play stores. Tips can also be submitted by texting the keyword "KFWLaw" along with a message to 847411 (tip 411) or by calling 800-25-ALERT.

More information on any of these subjects may be found by visiting the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife website (fw.ky.gov). For questions, contact the department's Information Center at 800-858-1549, or at info.center@ky.gov, weekdays 8 a.m. – 4:30 p.m. (ET), except holidays.

trumpet," says Eva, "but this program really caught my attention. I've been listening to more music than I ever had, and really paying attention to the lyrics. What writers can express through songs is just amazing, but I never dreamed I could do it myself."

"Eva has been extremely prolific," adds Navarro. "She's kind of shy so you might not know how much talent and energy is there beneath the surface. But she is showing me some great songs, just cranking them out, really."

Budding songwriters Magnolia and Adelynn have been friends for a long time, and they are part of a larger friends group they call The Circle of Six. "We've written a song about the Circle, and we've even choreographed a dance to go with it. We plan on giving it to the gang at Christmas!" they explain. "Our friends are more into athletics, that's their thing, so discovering this fun way to be involved in music, by writing songs, kind of gives us an expressive outlet, too."

Caroline explains she was pretty much a born singer. "My mom and sister are both vocalists. My older sister, Taylor Williams, was involved in the theater program when she was in school. Working with Mr. Navarro has really opened my eyes to all the ways a singer can be involved in the process, from solo work to background vocals and harmony. There's a lot to learn, and I'm so glad this program is available for us in Junior High. I see this being a big part of my life going forward."

Jerry is not alone in the program this year. He has a new Teacher's Assistant in Jordan Wilson, an accomplished musician in his own right. Plus he has volunteer help from a whole host of local musicians, including Donnie Rose, Tom Steveley, Mark Bear and many more.

Four of the promising students in Madison Consolidated Junior High School's new music production program include (from left): songwriters Adelynn Glunt, and Magnolia Heitz, singer Caroline Demaree, and songwriter Eva Lohrig.

As Jerry explains, "The kids are starting to get it now. Music is not just something that happens in band or on the radio. It's something any of them can do, at different levels and with different skills. It's opening up pathways that some of them never knew existed. It's been very satisfying, and I'm excited to see how it develops and grows in the future."

HOT TIP OF THE WEEK

Wednesdays are shaping up to be a kind of special musical smorgasbord in Madison these days. You have a well-attended and always entertaining open mic scene at 1st Street Saloon. You have line dancing at Mad Paddle. There's a music trivia thing happening on the hilltop at Tailgators. And if you just want to sit and enjoy some classic rock on a mid-week hump day, Darryl Hewitt performs on the "World's Tiniest Full Band Stage" at Rivertown Grill.

The Friday schedule is FAT this week (or even PHAT, dare I say) with eight shows downtown and one up on the hill. And Saturday is just a perfect Indiana's Music City pub crawl, with five shows all in easy walking distance.

Charlie Rohlfing is a retired advertising man and partner in The Red Bicycle Hall music venue. Look for his distinctive fedora bobbing above the crowd, anywhere live local music is happening.
