go after it.” Junior Andrew Crace finished third at regionals at 215 pounds. After losing his first match of the day, he won four consecutive matches to clinch his spot at state. Crace earned three pins and a 7-1 decision win in the third place match. “I think it’ll be interesting to see [Crace] wrestle,” Wells said. “He’s had a couple things, speed bumps through the season, even though it’s been short. He’s had some sickness stuff that everybody else is having to go through too, but he’s pushing through it. Not only that, he’s got some injury stuff that he’s working through. He’s a tough kid. He’s a grinder. He goes out there and he wrestles hard, and a lot of times, he puts in a lot of work in the offseason, his strength training and everything. I wouldn’t be surprised if he could find a way on the podium if things fall his way.”

Sophomore Brody Culver placed fourth at 138 pounds, going 4-2 with a major decision win, two pins and a tiebreaker win. Junior Cadan Beach placed sixth at regionals at 126 pounds, going 2-3 on the day with two fall wins.

“With Brody, he came back halfway through the year,” Wells said. “We were super happy to get him back in the room. He has shown a whole lot of growth and maturity and is super coachable, asks questions and wants to know how to get better. If you can have a team full of kids like that, you usually end up with a pretty awesome team. I’m excited for him to punch his ticket to state... With Cadan, he was super close. I think he thought he was up in the match before the placements in the blood round. He was in a good position and didn’t realize that he was actually down by a point. It was tough to go through, but those are growing pains. If he gets in and practices and everything happens, he can definitely make it to state next year.”

Eighth graders Laine Steed and Kaleb Lewallen also competed at regionals, along with senior Rodrigo Galindo, junior Ibraheem Kissanana and sophomore Lucas Simpson. Sophomore Rocco Jones and freshman Castle Whitaker also wrestled at regionals.

For the state meet, Wells wants to see his wrestlers do the right thing and make sure they are eating the right foods and staying hydrated throughout the week.

“We just try to polish up on what we’re really good at and work on a few things that we may need to work on a little bit and pretty much see what happens,” Wells said. “Most of the time, I try to tell them not to let the tournament be bigger than they are, because it’s just another tournament. It just happens to have the state title on it, and I wouldn’t make that any bigger than it needs to be. We like to try to keep everybody’s emotions controlled, and everybody usually does a good job of that.”
