

Being healthy nice change for Bullitt Central

SHEPHERDSVILLE – It is nice being healthy.

After struggling through a holiday tournament at Logan County, the Bullitt Central Lady Cougars returned home and recovered from the flu. Coach Stephanie Troutman’s first team won for the sixth straight time since the clock turned to 2026 with four wins over six days last week.

The Lady Cougars won ten games last season, but at the start of this week the team had an 11-7 record and had moved into the upper level of teams in the Sixth Region as formulated by the KHSAA RPI rankings.

On Monday, the Lady Cougars went on the road and slipped past Eastern 61-57. Two night later, the team had no issues as they defeated Seneca on the road 67-33. Bullitt Central got to play at home on Friday and cruised past Fern Creek 60-43. Perhaps the best performance of the streak came on Saturday afternoon when the Lady Cougars traveled to Elizabethtown and defeated Central Hardin 53-49.

Bullitt Central will play three games during each of the next two weeks.

“I am proud of the way that we started tonight,” Troutman said after the win over Fern Creek. “We have struggled in the first quarter of some recent games. The game tonight we had good energy from the start.”

Troutman did say that despite the busy schedule, that the team had a full practice on Tuesday, but did go light on Thursday.

The biggest news at this point is that the team has found multiple scoring options. There was a time when the team needed junior Cami Bickett to carry the load, but against Fern Creek she did not score in the first half, but the team still had a 31-17 advantage. Bullitt Central had three players score in double figures as Bickett had just seven points. Sophomores Chloe Hurst and Alexius Rinker led the way with 14 and 13 points, respectively while junior Abrie Dillman finished with 12 points.

“I think we have had five different players lead us in scoring in games this season,” Troutman pointed out. “You never know who it will be on any given night.

“They have stepped up to the challenge,” the coach added. “They know that if it is not their night (scoring) that they will rebound and play defense.”

In the tight win over Eastern, Bullitt Central’s five starters scored 58 of the 61 points with each scoring at least night points. Bickett led the way with 15 points while Dillman had 13, Kynslee Gibson 11, Hurst 10 and Rinker had nine points.

The Lady Cougars have two post players, Gibson and Awel Deng, but Troutman has settled into playing four guards and playing at a fast pace, putting up a lot of shots. Against Eastern, the maroon and gray took 62 shots, making 24 (39 percent). The team was seven of 21 on three-pointers.

“It just depends on how the game is developing,” Troutman said of the rotation for Gibson and Deng. We try to stick with four guards and one post player. Sometimes we have played them together. We would like to fast and let them go.

“I think we kind of know where we are now,” the coach added. “We are experimenting with a few things and trying to get better with each game.”

Against Seneca on Wednesday, it was Dillman that took the lead in scoring with 24 points while Bickett had 16 and Rinker 13. The Lady Cougars had 67 shots in this game and were around the same percentage (37 percent) while making a dozen three-pointers with four each by Dillman and Bickett.

At home on Friday against Fern Creek, the game was not nearly as close as the final score might indicate. The Lady Cougars pushed the lead to as many as 28 points early in the fourth quarter before Troutman subbed heavily before coasting to the 60-43 win. This time, the team took 69 shots, making 22 for a 32 percent mark. The group had just seven three-pointers in 25 chances.

Gibson and Deng led the Lady Cougars with eight and seven rebounds, respectively. Bickett also had seven rebounds as Bullitt Central had a 46-28 edge in rebounding.

As of press time, no stats or scoring were available for the win over Central Hardin on Saturday afternoon.
