2026-27 Teen Court members sworn into program

Each year, students in Bullitt County have the unique opportunity to provide punishment for their peers.

The Bullitt County Teen Court was recently sworn in by Bullitt County District Judge Jennifer Porter. She presides over the teen group which listens to juvenile crimes and then render a on fourth down. Twice they were successful. However, the two failures led to Madison Central touchdowns.

"There were just too many times when we got off schedule," Kendrick said of having to go more than 10 yards to get a first down. "We really needed to stay in front of the chains.

"There was a fourth and short and we could not convert it," the coach said of a first half drive that ended with the Indians getting the ball back. "When you are playing good teams, you have to convert those type plays."

Madison Central took away Bullitt East's main running threat, junior Brayden Carby. That put more pressure on Egan, but he could not help the team through the air or on the ground.

Bullitt East's lead on Friday lasted a total of three plays. That first series was pretty much the way the night went for the Charger defense. The team held the Indians for no gain on two plays, but then Herbst took the snap and raced down the left side of the line before cutting upfield and finding open running space. He did not stop running until going 58 yards for a touchdown.

The Chargers had to convert a fourth down early in the next drive and they did that when Egan ran for five-yards. Egan then connected with Evan Butler for a 20-yard completion. Bullitt East got to the 25-yard line but Carby was thrown for a three-yard loss before Egan was stopped after running five-yards on a fourth and ten attempt.

Madison Central went the other way quickly. Hairston had a 23-yard run to move the ball over midfield. There was the short pass from Herbst to Xiomar Canterbury before Kinley broke free for a 30-yard touchdown run.

At the end of the first quarter, it appeared that Kendrick was ready to go for it on fourth down at the 31-yard line but an off-sides penalty ended that opportunity. Landon Roby came on and punted with the ball rolling dead at the 27-yard line on the first play of the second quarter.

On the next play, Mathis broke through the middle of the line, breaking several tackles and racing 73 yards for another touchdown.

Bullitt East did convert a fourth down play on the next series when Egan connected with Butler on a short pass over the middle. At the Indians' 28-yard line, the Chargers had a fourth and two play, but Egan was stopped a yard short.

The longest series of the game for the Indians followed with ten plays. Herbst had a 24-yard run to put the ball on the five-yard line. Two plays later Barnes scored from the two-yard line.

Madison Central got the ball to open the second half and quickly showed that nothing had changed. The Indians ran the ball seven straight times to cover 57 yards. Barnes got the points on this drive on a nine-yard run.

With 3:23 remaining in the third quarter, Madison Central scored again as Mathis scored on a 41-yard run. That made it 42-7 and started the running clock.

Bullitt East did get a late score. In a 65-yard drive, Egan connected with Brayden Walsh for 14 yards and the quarterback also found Butler again, this time for 11 yards. The touchdown came on a five-yard run by Carby.

Midway through Madison Central's fourth touchdown drive, Bullitt East lost defensive lineman Christian Martinez as he got tangled up in a group of players trying to make a tackle. The senior sat up on the field, but then leaned back. The game was delayed and an ambulance was called to the field where Martinez was loaded on a stretcher.

After the game, Kendrick said he thought removing Martinez was more a cautionary decision. He was in good spirits as he left the field.

"I just wanted to tell them that he was OK," Kendrick said when asked what a coach tells the team after seeing a teammate injured. "We just tell the players to make him proud of how we play."

Like most high school teams in the area, Bullitt Central will be running a four-guard line-up with a single post player. The returning post player is senior Kynslee Gibson, while Barnhard will rotate into that spot. Troutman did sort of shake her head when asked if those two players could be on the court at the same time. The coach did suggest that there might be stretches where neither of those players will be on the court.

Bullitt Central has ball handlers, but there might not be that one player who stands out as a point guard. Any of the guards could fill any of the roles that traditional guards handle.

Still, a lot of the offense will again run through Cami Bickett. The senior led the team in scoring at 16.7 points last season. She also led the team in scoring as a freshman at 14 points a game. Bickett has already scored 1,000 points in her career despite playing just five games as a sophomore.

Bickett was also second on the team last season in rebounds with 7.2 a contest.

Another player who will play a key role for Bullitt Central this winter will be senior Abrie Dillman. She will be starting for a third straight season and was second on the team in scoring last year at 10.6 points a contest.

Also in that starting group will be junior Chloe Hurst, who averaged 9.5 points a game last season. Hurst actually led the team in two-point baskets last season with 79 while Bickett was far ahead of her teammates with 93 three-pointers.

The fifth returning starter is junior Alexius Rinker as she averaged 7.6 points a game.

Gibson will start in the post after averaging 6.6 rebounds a game last season.

Hagan was the first player off the bench last season and that could be the way the rotation works again this winter. Troutman is also looking for sophomore Madison Vineyard to step up and take more playing time

The other players on the varsity roster at this point include sophomore Emma Harrell, and freshmen Savannah Bailey and Madilyn Rummage. Rounding out the varsity squad will be 8th-graders Brooklyn Boerste and Clementine Burden.

Bullitt Central should be fun to watch this season. With a four-guard line-up, the Lady Cougars will press quite often and run at every opportunity. The team will also shoot a lot of three-pointers. The team converted 7.5 three-pointers a game last season with Bickett, Dillman and Rinker each having at least 48 makes last season.

"We like shooting the three," Troutman said. "I am really working with them on playing fast. If we cannot get to the rim, then we can knock down the three."

With the support of her players, Troutman did add a few better teams to the schedule this season. Of course, the Lady Cougars already play Bullitt East and North Bullitt, but the maroon and gray have added games against Sixth Region powers Butler and Pleasure Ridge Park.

Bullitt Central will open the season on Wednesday of next week with a home game against Eastern.

The early game that will show just where the team stands at this point in the season will a game on Friday, Dec. 11, when the Lady Cougars will host Bullitt East. Bullitt Central has lost 13 straight games to the Lady Chargers dating back to a 63-56 win late in the 2012 season.

Troutman's team will return to playing North Bullitt twice this season. The first meeting will be on Friday, Dec. 18, at North Bullitt.

Bullitt Central is also ready to accept an invitation to the Girls' Louisville Invitational Tournament if the team qualifies.

Troutman did alter her coaching staff this season. Stephanie Dillman, the mother of Abrie Dillman, returns while Calvin Bickett has moved over from the boys' program and will be the freshman coach. Bickett, the older brother of Cami Bickett, is the head girls' coach at Bernheim Middle School.
