Farm Credit Mid-America returning $34.4 million to farmers in Kentucky

LOUISVILLE — At a time when farmers continue to navigate tight margins, elevated input costs and ongoing market uncertainty, Farm Credit Mid-America returned $280 million in net earnings to eligible customer-owners last month through its patronage program, with $34.4 million returning to Kentucky farmers and more than $2.2 million for Pulaski, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, Wayne, McCreary, Russell, Lincoln, Bell, Clay, Harlan, Jackson, Know, Laurel, Leslie, Owsley, Rockcastle and Whitley counties.

Customers commonly use patronage payments to:

- Pay down operating or term debt
- Offset spring input and planting costs
- Reinvest in equipment, land or on-farm improvements
- Strengthen working capital and financial resilience.

This year's distribution brings the total amount of net earnings returned to customers over the past 10 years to more than $1.75 billion, underscoring the strength of Farm Credit Mid-America's diverse portfolio and commitment to support farmers through both good and challenging times.

"Returning capital to our customers is just part of how we do business as a cooperative," said Mark Barker, Farm Credit Mid-America senior vice president of agricultural lending in Kentucky. "Our customers manage risk every day. Patronage gives them a little extra flexibility, whether that's strengthening their balance sheet, improving cash flow or helping them plan for the season ahead."

Farm Credit Mid-America is a farmer-owned cooperative, meaning customers are also owners. Through patronage, a portion of the cooperative's earnings is returned to eligible customer-owners based on the level of eligible business they conduct with the Association. Patronage is an annual decision made by Farm Credit Mid-America's board of directors.

"Over the last decade, we've returned more than $1.75 billion directly to the people who make agriculture work," said Tara Durbin, chief lending officer of agriculture at Farm Credit Mid-America. "A portion of that capital stays in Kentucky where it supports farms, families and rural communities, which is exactly what our cooperative system was designed to do."

Farm Credit Mid-America serves agricultural producers, rural homeowners and agribusinesses across Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio and Tennessee. In addition to patronage, the cooperative invests roughly $5 million annually in rural communities through education, leadership development, youth programs and support for the next generation of agriculture.
