

WILDCATS

He was really solid defensively for the whole night." Outside of UK's de-facto point guard, Andrija Jelavic also had a notable night offensively with 11 points despite three turnovers. Mouhamed Dioubate also logged double figures with 12 points after a late bucket and Collin Chandler was able to secure 10 with a dunk in garbage time. As a team, turnovers continued to be an issue for the Wildcats, who logged a total of 15 in the game. Jelavic had his aforementioned three while Jasper Johnson, Malachi Moreno and Otega Oweh logged three as well.

The Gamecocks also did well to limit the impacts of Oweh and Chandler, with the former finishing with eight points. Oweh was held to 3-13 shooting on the night while Chandler attempted just six shots. "For us today, Oweh scoring 24 was not part of our equation," South Carolina Head Coach Lamont Paris said. "I thought that was not the recipe for us to have a good chance to win the game, so we played in a way where that was not likely to happen. We picked the guy that was (SEC) Preseason Player of the Year (to target)." Both teams entered the halftime break with less than 30 points as UK led 28-21 after 20 minutes of play in an arena that featured Gamecocks football coach Shane Beamer and NASCAR Cup Series Champion Joey Logano. The Gamecocks took an early lead in the contest before ballooning that advantage up to 12-5. UofSC would lead for 10:54 in the first half before UK was able to snatch the advantage. In the second half, things remained more tightly contested as a 17-10 Gamecock run dominated the third quarter of the game. From there, South Carolina would make multiple pushes and tie the game a total of three times before the Wildcats took an advantage they'd never surrender. UK would expand its lead back up to seven with just under five minutes to play, regaining its halftime advantage, before South Carolina would make one final push. Ultimately, Kentucky would tie its largest lead of the night (nine) with 1:10 to go and, as fans began to leave the arena, would go on to win by nine after a free-throw took away a brief game-record 10-point advantage. As well as securing the overall victory, UK was able to handily win the rebounding battle, grabbing 48 boards compared to South Carolina's 28. Moreno finished the game with 11 boards on his own, failing to secure the points necessary for his second double-double in conference play, while Brandon Garrison was able to grab seven boards. "It was really important," Pope said. "We wedged to win and it was important. South Carolina does a lot of things well (and) one of the things they've struggled with is the glass and our guys did a nice job doing the best they could to take advantage. (It) probably was the difference in the game in the first half." Kentucky returns to Rupp Arena Saturday for a rematch with the No. 25 Vanderbilt Commodores at 2 p.m. in a game that will air live on ESPN.
