Kentucky State Police Post 5 in Campbellsburg adds Harris

BY PAXTON MEDIA GROUP

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Kentucky State Police (KSP) honored 40 cadets Friday graduating from Cadet Class 107 at the KSP Training Academy, marking the start of their careers as state troopers serving communities across the commonwealth.

Jack Thomas Harris of La Grange graduated from Cadet Class 107 at the KSP Training Academy Friday. He will serve at KSP Post 5 in Campbellsburg.

Cadet Class 107 reported to the KSP Academy on May 17 and completed 24 weeks of intensive academic instruction and practical training designed to prepare them for the challenges of modern law enforcement. Cadets in the class underwent more than 1,000 hours of classroom and field study in subjects such as constitutional law, juvenile and traffic law, use of force, weapons training, defensive tactics, first aid, high speed vehicle pursuit, criminal investigation, computer literacy, hostage negotiations, evidence collection, radio procedures, search and seizure, crash investigation, drug identification, traffic control, crowd control, armed robbery response, electronic crimes, sex crimes, hate crimes, domestic violence, bomb threats and hazardous materials.

During Friday's ceremony, KSP Commissioner Phillip Burnett Jr. commended Cadet Class 107 for their dedication to complete the academy and answer the call to serve the Commonwealth, "Becoming a Kentucky State Police Trooper takes grit, determination and a genuine commitment to the people we serve. Each member of this class has demonstrated the ability to rise to challenges and uphold the expectations of this profession."

The Cadet Class 107 graduate assigned to Post 5 in Campbellsburg is Jack Thomas Harris of La Grange.

To see the full list of Cadet Class 107 graduates, visit KSP's website.

As they begin their assignments, KSP said these troopers will carry forward the agency's mission to enhance public safety through service, integrity and professionalism. Their work will include building partnerships to prevent and deter crime, improving highway safety through education and enforcement, protecting property and safeguarding the rights of all individuals.

KSP says they remain dedicated to recruiting, training and supporting a professional, diverse and well-equipped workforce to serve the Commonwealth. Those interested in pursuing a career as a KSP trooper are encouraged to visit the agency's website for more information, kentuckystatepolice.ky.gov.

KMA backs EKU osteopathic medicine college

BY TOM LATEK
KENUCKY TODAY

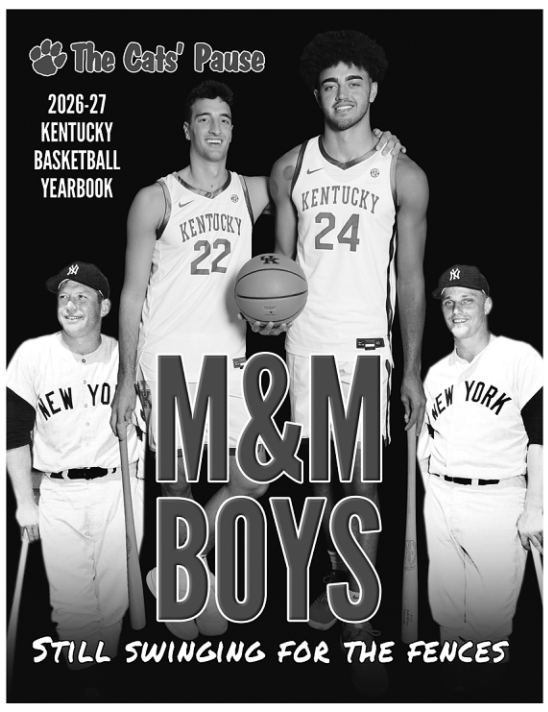

RICHMOND — The Kentucky Medical Association has expressed its support for Eastern Kentucky University's proposed College of Osteopathic Medicine and the university's strategy to expand graduate medical education in rural Kentucky.

"EKU has long trained the professionals who keep Kentucky communities running," EKU President David McFaddin said. "Our proposed College of Osteopathic Medicine is a natural extension of that mission, and we are grateful to have the state's physicians alongside our efforts to bring Kentucky's first public osteopathic medical program to EKU."

Kentucky, like much of the nation, faces a physician shortage that is most severe in its rural counties. Of Kentucky's 120 counties, 107 are federally designated as Health Professional Shortage Areas. EKU's proposed College of Osteopathic Medicine seeks to prepare physicians who will practice in the Commonwealth,
