

Not your normal Days of Our Lives Recap

That scuzball Joy Wesley continues to fake paralysis in the hospital so Alex will be forced to tend to her and give her attention.

She had her doctor dad mail her some muscle relaxers, unbeknownst to him, so she can pass her paralysis tests at Salem's pathetic hospital. Dr Kayla noticed Scuzzball Joy was ultra groggy, her speech all slurred, and she had slobber on her chin, but it never once dawned on her Joy was under the influence.

Johhny DiMera is in torments because of his no count dad EJ. He finally tells Detective Rafe Hernandez about his dad's no count sleazy dealings. Johnny's wife Chanel senses a Johnny is dealing with something and hugs him and tells him she is always there for him.

But we know that's a lie.

Johnny gets toothpaste on the sink. Chanel becomes a raving lunatic. Johnny has an expression on his face she doesn't like. Chanel- raving lunatic. Johnny leaves the com-mode lid up. Channel, whipping out a taser.

Alex dumps baby Kelsey off on Jada hunter so he and wife Stephanie can spend time together. Joy doesn't want Stephanie around her baby for one year because she shot at her (Joy) when she woke her up from a nap.

Detective Jada Hunter dumps baby Kelsey off on Shawn Brady so she can tend to some EJ crime business. Baby Kelsey becomes dizzy after being shoved off on people so often.

Maggie Horton Kiriakis tells Kate Brady about the paperwork almost finished on Kiriakis mansion sale, which the family lost because they hung out in restaurants and never went to work.

Maggie reads the form to Kate that she has to list things like any mold and vermin and says how there wasn't any.

Kate sucks in her jaws and arches an eyebrow as she pictures the house freshly riddled with varmits and the buyer backing out.

Will Maggie soon be back at the mansion with rats and mice clinging to the ankles of her fancy pantsuit?

Getting that vibe.

GIDDYUP ELEPHANT

By DANNY WHITLOCK

Growing up, my family did not take many family vacations. I can only recall two. The first was before my sister was born and I was 4 or 5 years old. My parents and I and one other couple left Detroit and headed to one of the Great Lakes. Not Lake Superior, but rather Huron, Erie, or Michigan. I am not at all certain where we were. The weather was cool, and we stayed in an older house with white clapboard siding. I'm sure I had a good time, but to tell the truth, I was too young to remember much.

The second vacation was to the Great Smoky Mountains. Because my parents both worked at the A&W Grocery and my father raised cattle on his farm, it was very difficult to find time for family trips. Because we didn't take many vacations, this is the one I remember best. Also, I was 15 years old and Pam was 9 so our memories are fully ingrained.

We stayed in Gatlinburg and made all the touristy stops. We drove over the mountains and into North Carolina, I think. I remember Indian souvenirs being for sale. The memory which is the clearest was at a road-side attraction with animals on display. The animals included an Asian elephant. I think it was Asian and not African since it had smaller ears. For a price, you could climb aboard the elephant and have your photo taken. Pam and I did exactly that.

We also rode the Sky Lift. Note in the photo how undeveloped Gatlinburg was in 1958. Leaving the Smokies, we traveled into eastern Kentucky and the Appalachian Mountains. It was beautiful country, but to me, it looked impoverished. The trip to the Appalachians made me appreciate what we had at home in Fulgham. I may be one of the few readers who have ever ridden an elephant. If you are also in the rarified group, let Gaye know and send a photo if available.
